WE WILL BE KNOWN YET.

The Board of Trade Pamphlet will be Issued Soon.

In speaking with President Wright it is learned that work on the board of trade's descriptive pamphlet is going on finely, and that the work will be issued soon. Over $250 has been raised for expenditure in advertising during the coming year, and the committee intends increasing this amount considerably yet.

President Wright has employed D. L. Greene to solicit advertising for the pamphlet to be issued soon, and Mr. Greene begun work to-day. It should receive good patronage, and the book should be published as soon as possible.

The board recently authorized the insertion of small advertisements in several leading papers of the middle states, Iowa, Minnesota, etc., noting that pamphlets descriptive of Oregon could be had on application to the president of the board of trade, and the number of applications received already is marvelous.

It is intended that Oregon, and especially Marion county and Salem shall be known to the world. The pamphlets will receive a wide circulation, and will be widely read. The result of this scheme is sure to be good for this city. Let the matter be crowded all that is possible, and let every citizen of Salem who knows of any one in the east who wants information regarding Oregon apply to President Wright for one of these pamphlets. The principal thing in advertising is to secure circulation where it will do the most good, and all citizens of Salem should use their utmost endeavors now to advance the common cause.

About Immigration.

In view of the efforts now under way to induce emigration to Oregon, one important consideration should not be kept out of the reckoning. Anything like misrepresentation ought to be abstained from. None ought to be lured here. All should come with clear understanding of the facts, without exaggeration or concealment. Oregon needs and invites the immigration which will populate the state and be contented with their coming. There is no dearth of workingmen in the state. The field of labor is amply supplied. Of these classes there is no want. The ordinary working man dependent upon his daily wages for his support, will not better his condition by coming here. Neither is there any lack of men in clerical vocations, dependent upon salaries for regular subsistence from week to week. The towns and cities are already fairly supplied with these classes. The great need is of men of moderate or fair means, able to buy lands or farms and locate; men possessed of enough to fairly begin in their new homes against ordinary risk of destitution through want of these means, during the first year. After that, no industrious, frugal, thrifty, careful man is likely to fall to prosper; and riches will come with years. Farmers, fruit growers, stock breeders, men in every branch of husbandry, are the kinds of emigrants who can better prosper by coming. Capitalists will find grand or good opportunities for investment. Merchants and traders need have no doubt of ample fields in their special or general lines. Any who come empty handed must not be disappointed in the event of failure to at once better their condition. There are vast areas of fertile lands unoccupied in Oregon, and everywhere in this great Northwest. These await location and cultivation. No country has richer soil. The climate is unequalled for health and invigoration. Cereals, and grasses grow in unrivaled luxuriance and excellence. All kinds of live stock thrive. The forests are inexhaustible. The rivers are matchless. The mountains surpassing in grandeur. Transportation, by water and by railroad, is ample for the present, and all the time improving and expanding. Winter blizzards and summer droughts are never suffered. Intense cold and intolerable heat do not afflict man or beast. This is a state in which to found permanent homes with the assurance of health and of wealth as the years roll. Wild game abounds; the rivers and streams, and the ocean yield abundant food fish of the better species. Everything to ensure contented life and the accumulation of wealth is here upon this coast.—Portland News.

Alfred Holman severs his connection with the Oregonian to-day, and to-morrow goes to take the management of the Seattle Post-Intelligencer, aside from the Oregonian, the leading paper in the Northwest. Mr. Holman is well known in Salem, and is a young man of recognized ability, and wide journalistic experience. He will certainly be successful in his new field of labor, and the kind wishes of many friends go with him.

Spring, summer, autumn, and winter hold a festival the evening of May 1st under the auspices of the Y's, to which the public are cordially invited. Each season dressed in her beauty will serve refreshments of that season. "Spring is the time of love" so sings the poet; and spring will sell, at her booth, a cure for all, so afflicted. The young ladies have also prepared a short program consisting of music and a drama. In the W. C. T. U. rooms, Court street, May 1st. Admission 10 cents.

The Scotch Entertainment.

The opera house was well filled last night, the occasion being the Scotch entertainment gotten up for the benefit of the Congregational church. The selections were all Scotch, and all the performers were dressed in Scottish costume, several of the gentlemen wearing the kilts suits of the Highlanders. The entertainment opened with "Auld Lang Syne," chorus, by about twenty singers, and this was followed by a continuous stream of good things.

Notable among the numbers of the evening were "Highland Jean" and "There's Nae Luck About the House," solos by Mrs. Johnstone, of Mehama, "Edinboro Town" by Mrs. J. H. Strickler, and in response to an encore, "Comin' Thro' the Rye," "Annie Laurie" and "The Maid of Dundee" by Mrs. Geo. W. Belt, "Bonnie Dundee," solo by Mr. Ross, "Bonnie Doon," duet by Mr. Swafford and Miss Wheeler—all were excellently rendered and pleased the audience well.

"Jessie's Dream, or The Relief of Lucknow" was sung by Miss Addie Cox in a very pleasing manner, and at the close the soldiers coming to the relief of the castle, and the introduction of the bagpipes, made an interesting scene. The pipes were something of a curiosity to the greater number of people present, and created considerable fun for all. Song by Mr. Sears, and chorus; reading by Mrs. Mitchell and Mr. Armstrong, varied the entertainment, which closed with a tableau of a scene from Rob Roy, followed by a Scottish reel by Scotch people.

The entertainment proved pleasant to the audience, and profitable to the church, and its success reflected great credit on the promoters of the affair.

Late Arrivals.

Strangers are beginning to arrive in the city more freely. Those who have walked here with their families from the East will need new shoes. Staiger Bros. will fit you out in fine shape.

Renews Her Youth.

Mrs. Phoebe Chesler, Peterson, Clay Co., Iowa, tells the following remarkable story, the truth of which is vouched for by the residents of the town: "I am 73 years old, have been troubled with kidney complaint and lameness for many years; could not dress myself without help. Now I am free from all pain and soreness, and am able to do all my own household work. I owe my thanks to Electric Bitters for having renewed my youth, and removed completely all disease and pain." Try a bottle, 50c. and $1. at H. W. Cox's drug store.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

Club Meeting.

There will be a meeting held at the Liberty school house, 3 1/2 miles south of Salem, in South Salem precinct on Saturday night, April 28th at 7:30 P. M., for the purpose of organizing a club to discuss the political issues of the day. A full representation is earnestly desired from each of the political parties.

With Colored Crayon.

Boss Tweed used to say of Nast's cartoons that they hurt him more than newspaper editorials, because everybody could understand them. It is so with Rolla Kirk Bryan. His wonderful transformations in crayon astonish the senses of all, and in this way his invariable success is explained.

New Photographer.

Catterlin & Hicks have secured the service of Mr. Felix Reme, the well known and popular artist of Chicago, who will be with them for a few weeks. He beats the world on baby pictures, and is the finest artist ever in Salem. Call and see some of his pictures now on exhibition at their gallery.

State Taxes.

The state treasurer is in receipt of $3000 from Crook county on state tax account to-day, and a day or two since he received $96,555 at one time from Multnomah county. That county yet owes about eight thousand dollars.

Chalk Talker.

Rollo Kirk Bryan works wonderful and telling transformations "with colored crayon" skillfully using both hands at the same time—a simple stroke here and there marvelously changing the whole effect. Opera House May 2nd.
